

Congrats to Grammy Winner La Santa Cecilia We love your shoes

Yesterday, the Los Angeles band, La Santa Cecilia took home the award for Best Latin Rock, Urban or Alternative Album! Why are we so excited for them?

Well, because lead singer (and now Grammy winner), Marisol is an avid crafter. One of her specialties is making her colorful wardrobe ensembles for her performances - which includes numerous pairs of dance shoes that she embellishes with PUFFY PAINT!

Read on to see her magical shoes that she paints, and music videos too!

Marisoul performs at the Grammys in her awesome puffy paint shoes!

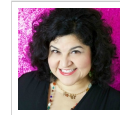

Even cooler, when the band performed yesterday at the Grammys pretelecast, she wore her hand beautiful painted shoes! While everyone else was sporting designer this and that, Marisoul wore her own original creations and made her own fashion statement at the Grammys! We love that she creates and embraces her own style and inspires others to do so as well.

Here is a video so you can see and hear the band's music, followed by an interview I did with Marisoul last year.

Again, congrats to La Santa Cecilia from all of us here at iLoveToCreate! Keep the creativity flowing!
