

DIY Snow Globe Necklace

DIY Snow Globe Necklace

theimpatientcrafter.com for ilovetocreateblog.blogspot.com

After you deck your halls, why not deck yourself with a tiny wearable snow globe? In just a few simple steps with you can turn a mini-tree into an attention grabbing necklace sure to garner compliments throughout the holiday season. Make a pair of festive matching earrings and you're ready to hit the holiday party scene in style.

AN LOVETOCREATE.COM EXCLUSIVE BY

Margot Potter

You will need:

- 2" mini glass jar with cork topper
- 2 1" mini glass jars with cork toppers
- Tinsel trim
- Mini tree
- Tulip Fashion Glitter in multi ultra fine crystal
- Aleene's Jewelry and Metal Glue acrylic adhesive tabs
- Aleene's Tacky Glue
- 3 mini eye screws
- 2 earring wires
- 10mm jump ring
- Ball chain and connector
- Scissors

Step one: Cut top off of mini-tree to fit inside of large glass jar. Place an adhesive tab on bottom.

Step two: Use chain nose pliers to secure tree on bottom of jar. Step three: Shake glitter into jar. Step four: Add glue to cork, insert.

Add glue to screw and use chain nose pliers to twist into cork. Let dry. Step four: Wrap and knot tinsel trim around rim of glass jar.

Step six: Make some matching glitter earrings and attach jewelry findings with chain nose pliers.

Make this, it's easy!

theimpatientcrafter.com for ilovetocreateblog.blogspot.com

Now that's what I call quick and easy!

DIY Snow Globe Necklace

theimpatientcrafter.com for ilovetocreateblog.blogspot.com

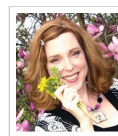

Ho, ho, hope you enjoy.

DIY Snow Globe Necklace

Would you wear a mini-snow globe necklace? Let us know in the comments. Join the crafty conversation on Facebook. For more quick and easy ideas, visit me at The Impatient Crafter.

Cheers,
Madge

Designed By:
Margot Potter