Neon is everywhere you look these days, so I thought, "Why not ornaments too?" Everyone who I've showed these ornaments too fall in love with them! They are just so bright and funky. Here's how you can make your own set to share with your friends and family!

What you need:

- Round glass ornaments (clear)
- Tulip Neon Glitter Carousel
- Collage Pauge Decoupage Medium
- Paper Towels

Squeeze a little bit of Collage Pauge in your ornament and add a teaspoon of water inside. Move it around to coat the inside of the ornament.

Pour out the contents of ornament totally out and shake. Clean off the outside of the ornament if you need to!

Pour the neon color of your choice into the bottom of the ornament.

Move the color around just on the bottom third of the ornament.

Now add in another color and move it around the middle of the ornament.

As you can see, the color doesn't take over the blue glitter portion, it just blends into it. Repeat the process for your final color and put your cap back on!

These ornaments turned out so fun and will get oohs and ahhs from your friends, because there's not a lot of neon ornaments out there right now.

Add them to some simple giftwrap or butcher paper for a fun accent. You can also make a whole bunch and display them in a bowl!
